DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 6, it is unclear whether the limitation "a braking element" is the same element as the "braking elements" referred to in line 1. It appears that only one braking element is deployed rather than a plurality of braking elements. The limitation, in line 6, "without a gap" is also indefinite because the specification discloses a gap between inner periphery 31 and the holding ring 15 (see Fig. 2). In lines 7-8, "a textile screen (10) which, by virtue of its outside periphery (32) thereof which is reduced with respect to its radius" is indefinite because it is unclear what element is reduced with respect to what radius? In line 8, "a flat obtuse-angled frustoconical shape" is not understood because the deployed screen 16 as disclosed is curved rather than flat (see at least Fig. 1). In line 9, the limitation, "a smaller base" is not understood because it is unclear which part of the screen is the base, whether the screen has more than one base and what the "base" is smaller than?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3641

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by clearly anticipated by Bar et al. (US 6,672,536 B2). The following rejection is made is as much as the claims can be understood in the light of the 112 2nd paragraph rejection as discussed above.

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

5. Bar et al. clearly disclose the invention substantially as claimed (see abstract, the single Fig. and col. 1, line 65 – col. 2, line 15; col. 3, line 24 – col. 4, line 31).

6. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Bar et al. (US 6,511,016 B2). The following rejection is made is as much as the claims can be understood in the light of the 112 2nd paragraph rejection as discussed above.

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

7. Bar et al. clearly disclose the invention substantially as claimed (see abstract, Figs. 2-5 and at least col. 5, lines 34-54).

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See the attached PTO-FORM 892.
